STRATEGIC THINKING FOR CORPORATE LEADERS

Let Us Give It To You Straight, No Sugar Coating.

There are lots of "SEMINARS", "SUMMITS" AND "CONFERENCES" on any topic you care to think about. All of them want to be huge events. Many are vendor sponsored soi-rées. So, you can be sure that as soon as its over and you are seated in your office trying to get some work done, you are going to be hounded by phone calls, e-mail and text messages wanting to sell you stuff that you may not really want.

WHY WE ARE DIFFERENT:

- Cutting edge developments in business. And Networking, Awesome Breakaways, Golf. Period.
- We are not here to try and teach you anything. We lay out for you whats out there. You will be informed so that you will be inspired to make the right decisions. Our world class modulators aim simply to help you cope with the information explosion.
- We are not vendor sponsored. So, we don't pretend to offer miracle cures for your business problems.
- We keep the number of delegates small, enabling personal assistants on site to keep you connected with your work and your office. You won't feel like you've left the office at all.
- We are funny. You will be in stitches a lot of the time.

PUTTING FUN INTO WORK.

No One Dares To Do It Like We Do!

At ceo-briefings.com we aim to debunk the myth that CEOs must maintain a facade of puritanical virtue. Admit it! Boring meetings disengages your mind from the program. Which is why at ceo-briefings.com you will be riveted by the wholesome pursuits and pleasures that complement the intensity of the briefing. There is a subtle air of cerebral seduction that will climax with parties, networking and mind blowing breakaways, including golf or, if you prefer even a karaoke session. You will laugh, goof around, cheer, clap and be carried away by the camaraderie.

You can expect the "royal" treatment from the time you arrive. Starting your days at about 8:00 am, you will work and play all the way through till 7 or even 10 pm. After that, the world is your oyster. Networking is the order of the day. Should you be happily hungover in the morning, the personal assistants will have just the remedy at hand. Should you require a special phone number for colleagues, friends and family to call, we will provide one, in order to help you focus on the scholarly briefings.

What you can be sure of is that you will leave re-energized in body, spirit and mind; having made many new friends to take your business and your future to the next level of success.

LEADERS IN REVOLUTIONARY BUSINESS INTELLIGENCE

"The will to win, the desire to succeed, the urge to reach your full potential; these are the keys that will unlock the door to personal excellence". - Confucius

With an eye on the future and a vision for new opportunities, ceo-briefings.com was founded by 3 professionals working out of Hong Kong who understood that in today's fast paced world of business, it is critical to be constantly plugged into the latest developments. But going back to classroom style learning was dull and so we skipped the traditional seminars and conferences simply because it was uninspiring. Keeping yourself informed is really not an option if you want to move ahead. But there are definitely options on how you keep yourself informed. Wallah! ceo-briefings.com was born.

Come join us for the newest experience in continued professional development. Your business needs you to be inspired by the potent business intelligence that ceo-briefings.com has to offer.
